INTERESTED PARTY CONTRIBUTIONS AND LENDER INCENTIVES

Effective for Mortgages with Note Dates on or after September 3, 2025, but Sellers are encouraged to implement immediately

In coordination with Fannie Mae and in consultation with FHFA, we have reviewed our definitions related to interested party contributions and lender incentives and are updating the related requirements to provide greater specificity, including:

- Providing more detailed definitions of interested parties, interested party contributions, sales concessions and lender incentives
- Defining “affiliation” for the purpose of interested party contributions requirements
- Specifying that incentives from lenders that are, or are affiliated with, an interested party are considered sales concessions
- Adding realtor rebates to the list of examples of sales concessions
- Specifying that costs associated with builder forward commitments obtained prior to entering into a contract with the Borrower may be excluded from interested party contribution requirements if they were not incurred specifically for the subject transaction

In addition, we are updating requirements for lender incentives by:

- Removing the $500 limit and the requirement that lender incentives must be documented in the Mortgage file
- Requiring that lender incentives must not be funded through the Mortgage transaction (e.g., premium pricing)

- Specifying that lender incentives may not be considered when qualifying the Borrower (e.g., as a source of funds for closing or reserves)

Guide impacts: Sections 5501.6 and 5501.7

INCOME REQUIREMENTS AND DOCUMENTATION

Employed income

Base non-fluctuating employment earnings type updates

We have made the following updates related to non-exempt (hourly) earnings:

- Minor fluctuations in hours: We have updated language to add specificity to the intent of the existing requirements. Minor variations in base hours on paystubs (e.g., Borrower clocked out a few minutes early) are acceptable and may be treated as base non-fluctuating earnings when the variation is no more than an hour per week. Minor variations do not automatically render the base earnings as fluctuating if the historical earnings support the level of pay.
- Minimum required hours exception for primary employment: We have added requirements for Borrowers with base earnings that fluctuate but have a position with a minimum number of required hours. The earnings may be considered non-fluctuating, and the minimum required hours are acceptable to use for gross pay if the following requirements are met:
 - The Seller must obtain written documentation from the employer confirming the minimum required hours (i.e., written verification of employment, offer letter or equivalent documentation)
 - The documented minimum required hours must be supported by year-to-date (YTD) income and prior year, as applicable

Only the minimum required hours may be considered non-fluctuating. The requirements for fluctuating employment earnings apply to any additional hours used to qualify the Borrower.

Guide impact: Section 5303.1

Base fluctuating hourly employment earnings – calculation method updates

We have made the following updates related to calculation methods:

- Specified that the base fluctuating hourly earnings must be averaged over the most recent year(s) and YTD income, with examples
- Added exception language for when a Seller may average using less than the most recent year(s) and YTD income, with examples

Guide impact: Section 5303.1

Excluding time periods based on a specific event unlikely to recur

We have added specificity to requirements issued in Bulletin 2024-10 that permit calculation to be based on a shorter number of months (no less than 12 months combined) in certain instances for base fluctuating hourly earnings and bonus, overtime, commission and tip earnings. The specificity includes a new title and movement of the topic to a new row for ease of use. In addition, an example has been added.

Stable monthly income FAQ

The stable monthly income FAQ has been updated in conjunction with the employed income updates.

Pension income documentation

In response to Seller feedback, we have updated the income documentation requirements for existing and established pension income. When Internal Revenue Service Form 1099 is used to document current receipt and verifies income type and source, the age of documentation requirements in Section 5102.4 do not apply.

Guide impact: Section 5305.1
